THE PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

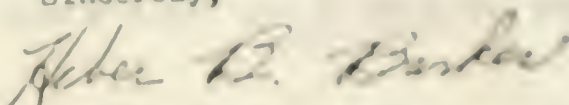

The opportunities that surround us in this marvelous world of ours are almost unbelievable. Man now has a new and changed relationship to nature--the greatly enlarged capacity to arrange and control the world we live in. We have at our service vast amounts of controllable power that can make it possible for people to enjoy long life and happy living. Science is rapidly making the world small and conquering space.

Yet in spite of the rapid advances in transportation, communication, and science in general, man himself is little changed from what he was in the days of Adam. The stars in the sky look the same as they did millions of years ago; ants on the earth still busily go about their daily tasks. People are born, live and die. Many go through the process without doing very much about the main thing--living.

A wise man once said, "Life, like every other blessing derives its value from its use alone." It is earnestly desired that you, our students, will live each day fully, make the best possible use of your time. Want to learn. Love the Lord and obey His commandments. Do some good thing each day. Make the most of your many wonderful opportunities! Make yourself fit for yourself to know!

May the Lord bless each of you for your earnest efforts to improve yourselves and obey His commandments in the years to come.

Sincerely,

Heber B. Barker
Principal

MESSAGE FROM THE DEAN OF STUDENTS

More than a hundred years ago a man from France went to Egypt to find graves of old Egyptian kings because he learned that those kings were buried with much wealth such as gold and silver and precious stones. He got permission from the king of Egypt to dig up and find old graves in the mountains. He hired two hundred French soldiers to help him with his work. They worked for several months and finally a grave was opened in the mountainside. Antonio Sebolo was lowered into the grave. He surveyed the grave inside and found several embalmed bodies--some on shelves and stone tables, some lying on the ground. He stood there for a long time thinking hard about what he saw. He felt so sorry and said to himself, "Who am I that disturbed them from their sacred place which they have occupied for hundreds of years?"

He was going to close the grave and seal its mouth and leave those dead people in peace in their sacred place when a voice whispered to him saying, "Antonio, God moves in a mysterious way, His wonders to perform."

Yes, students! The voice was right. Antonio Sebolo took eight of those mummies and sent them to America. The man who received these things found that inside three of these mummies were some old writings which nobody could read. Then rumors of Joseph Smith spread around America. He was then translating the Book of Mormon from some old Egyptian writings. Sebolo gave these three mummies to the new young Mormon prophet, after which Joseph Smith translated the Book of Abraham which is now included in the Pearl of Great Price.

Yes, God moved in His mysterious ways, His wonders to perform. Antonio went to Egypt in search of worldly wealth, but he did not know that behind it, he was moved by the Lord's power so that the Book of Abraham could be brought to the world.

Last year I read in the Time magazine that other countries such as the U.S.A. and Great Britain were pleading with Russia not to spoil the moon by shooting one of their big satellites at it. I thought to myself that these countries are foolish to believe that Russia's satellite could reach the moon--but now Russia has made it a success. Maybe by next year Russia and the U.S.A. will send some men to the moon.

Scientists of nowadays think it is only in using their skill to discover other planets. But who knows whether the scientists and what they have done now are some of the Lord's ways in order to perform some of His wonders?

Students! We are now living in the last days of the world. The Lord once spoke through the mouth of one of His prophets that in the last days marvelous things would be done. He is now pouring His wisdom to men to do marvelous things--He will give wisdom to those who seek wisdom.

You, now, as students who have the opportunity of going to school must really put your shoulders to the wheel and push your cart along. And the Lord with His part will reward you with wisdom.

God moves in a mysterious way to perform His wonders.

Ati So'o followed in April, to accompany Elder Thomas Reeve to his home at Santa Ana, California. Ati is now attending Fullerton Junior College. Seagai Faumuina left in July, and Lois Stirling, Mareko Taosoga, and Tom Stokoe in September to attend the Church College of Hawaii. At the present time Tamaitia Fasavalu is teaching in the elementary school at Pesega.

A HISTORY OF PESEGA SCHOOL

It is difficult to point to a date when Pesega School was started. For quite a number of years the Church has had a school at Pesega. For a few years during and before the war, the school was closed. Then in 1944 under the leadership of Mission President John Q. Adams, the school was reopened. This school was conducted as all mission schools began--in a Samoan fale with no furniture, very few books, and limited supplies.

The reopening of the school came at a time when emphasis was placed on education throughout Samoa. The school grew to a considerable size; and although teaching was done by local teachers under the supervision of missionaries, the educational program moved forward. At this time school was being held in a few old buildings near the mission home in Pesega.

The school continued to grow, and in 1950 a new building was begun which would house about 600 students. Even though the school was not dedicated until December, 1953, it was opened in 1952. With the opening, students came pouring in. There were no previous school records, and it was virtually impossible to determine in what grade a student should be placed; therefore many students were misplaced.

To this situation Elder Wendell Wiser was assigned as principal in 1954. One of his first acts was to prepare entrance and placement examinations to organize the students according to scholastic ability.

Replacing Elder Wiser upon being released from his mission was Elder Milford Cottrell, who arrived in 1956. Elder Cottrell was the first to be sent specifically by the First Presidency of the Church to direct the school. This began the movement of replacing missionary teachers with trained personnel from America. At the close of the present year, 1959, all missionary teachers will have been replaced.

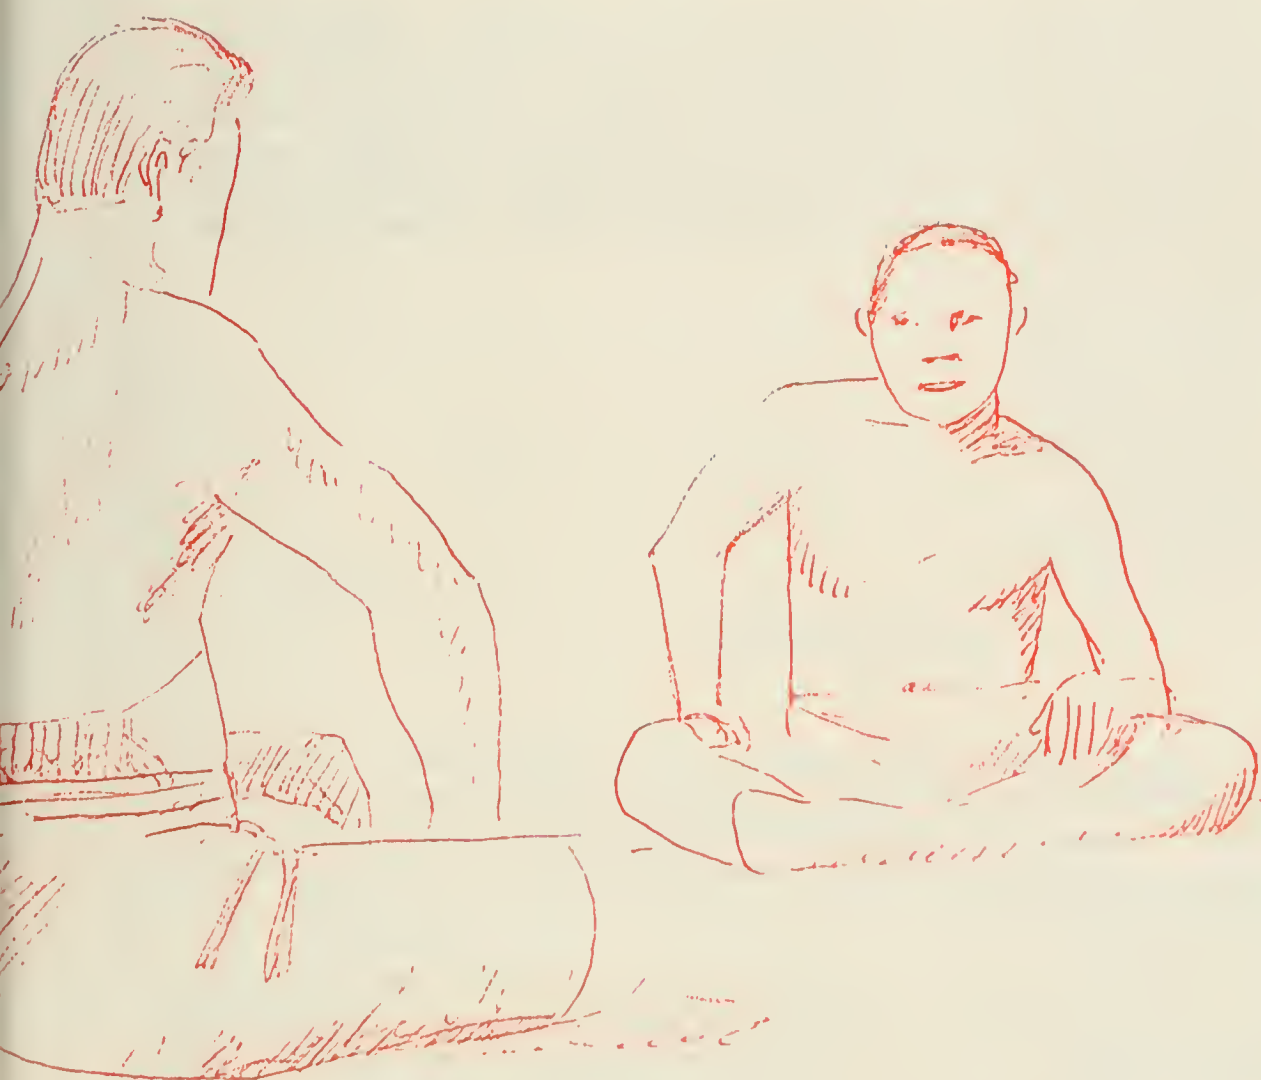

The work of the missionaries in the school is not to be discounted; many of them were trained teachers and all of them put forth every possible effort to elevate the school to the position which it now holds.

The last few years has seen much growth in Pesega School, not only in the number of students, but also in the quality of teaching. Many supplies have been received to make education more enjoyable, so that the school compares favorably with any other well-equipped school. The facilities have been improved within the school itself; walls have been built to separate the rooms from the corridors; windows are now replacing outside brick walls; many other such improvements have been made. An office building is nearing completion, and a new wing is now under construction to house the music, science, home making, and library departments.

More Form 2 students are taking the Primary Leaving Certificate Examination, and this year nine Form 5 students sat for the Samoan Public Service Examination.

In 1957 the first graduate of Pesega School left Samoa to attend the Church College of Hawaii. Since then ten others have gone to Hawaii and other American Universities.

The standard of education is steadily rising, and Pesega School is rapidly taking its place as a leader of education in Samoa.

POLICE

One student organization which performs a great service to the school is the Student Police Force. On duty from 7:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., these students issue tickets to students who violate our school laws by speaking in Samoan and appearing out of uniform. This group also serves the school by supervising the flag-raising, watching entrances to the building in the mornings and at lunch hour, and serving lunches at lunch time.

At their weekly meetings the student police gather to discuss particular problems, assign duties, and to collect tickets for violations.

The group consists of Brother Mulivai Purcell, faculty advisor; Mavaega Potusā, police director; Aukuso Luluali'i and Leva-'ula Fa'afuata, assistant directors; Olliana Crichton, secretary, Asini Hunt, assistant secretary; and the following student police: Phoebe Collins, Momoe Johnson, Senosa Fuatimau, Pulou Pati, Setu Ai'ono, Lakisa Frucan, Tuafono Leālāmanu'a, Mike Barker, and Doug Barker.

DANCE COMMITTEE

The Pesega School has a special dance committee. This committee decides on when and how to present dances, usually every third week. Some of the most outstanding dances which have been presented are the "Traffic Dance" and "Sayonara." All dances were enjoyed by all the students who attended.

The faculty advisor is Brother Don Larson, and the committee is made up of Mila Poutoa, chairman; Pamela Harwood, secretary; and the following members: Peniamina Leota, Akī Ili, Aukuso Luluali'i, Irwin Purcell, Sam Peters, Tu'ualofa Matuauto, Douglas Harwood, Ernest Wong, Emery Frost, Nita Ann Thomas, Noue Rivers, Dixie Sampson, Pamela Nielsen, Linda Stirling, Lois Stirling.

TALOFA

TALOFA, the Pesega School paper, is published every month by a special staff comprised of school students from Forms 5 and 6. This staff has performed a very outstanding service to the school by reporting on each class event, all activities of the school, plus presenting excellent articles on student government and other items of current interest.

SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

Pesega School has a continuous program of activities throughout the year. Friday evenings are used for these activities, and this year movies and dances were presented on alternate weeks. In addition to these activities the game nights and the carnival were held.

There are also activity periods for an hour once each week during school time. These programs include musical events, speakers, a debate, variety shows, campaigning for student body offices, and matinee dances.

All these activities have proven to be interesting and educational for all the students.

Brother Earl C. Brunner has been in charge of the movie program, Brother Don Larson has supervised the dance committee, and Brother Randolph Logan has arranged the activity periods. These advisors with their committees are to be complimented for all the fine activities we have enjoyed in our school this year.

TA'AMILOSAGA

During vacation in August the school choruses and band travelled to Savai'i for the purposes of presenting music and entertainment and to recruit students for all the Church schools. The items given on the concerts included choral music, sacred and secular, solos and selections from the operetta, "The Student Prince," and numbers by the band.

The students gained much valuable experience in travelling from village to village in learning about Samoan customs as well as learning student conduct and good performance.

It was felt that this "Ta'amilosaga" was well worth the preparations and the efforts put forth to make it such a fine success.
